

WRENCH NPD is the world's only end-to-end, vertical-specific product for the auto component industry. This unique, indigenous product enables companies involved in new product development, like auto component manufacturers, to differentiate from competition and grow into global organizations - without spending a fortune or investing in multiple I.T. solutions.

WRENCH NPD enables such companies deliver quality on time, every time - while keeping costs under control in a very competitive market.

WRENCH NPD offers seamless automation and management of all documents, tasks, processes, and activities - right across the enterprise. Its benefits include: foolproof enforcement of quality standards, efficient use of resources, reduced delivery time, online collaboration, knowledge management, as well as more standard features like data security/integrity, digital communication and file management. WRENCH NPD is the only product that combines the comprehensiveness of ERP with the focussed functionality of PLM (product lifecycle management) and an indepth understanding of the industry in one single product - and at a fraction of the cost!

The latest version, namely WRENCH NPD Version 7.0 was soft-launched here at Autoexpo 2006. The new WRENCH-NPD 7.0 is a fully web enabled application which has been build with highest flexibility. Other upgraded features include:

1. New product developed scheduling and tracking with task sequencing.
2. Integrated product development and process management.
3. Product development process management.
4. Integrated APQP data management as per TS16949 standards
5. Integrated Engineering change management with process integration
6. Tool \ machine design management
7. Capturing customer voice
8. Knowledge management
9. Integration with ERP system

About the company

WRENCH is the flagship product line of WRENCH Solutions (P) Ltd, a ten year-old ISO 9001-2000 certified Software Product Development Company. With our business headquarters at Bangalore, and a recently-opened Global R&D center in CSEZ (Cochin Special Economic Zone), Koci, we are India's leading player in the domain of information and process management for this market. WRENCH Solutions today has over 60% market share in India, and this figure is growing.