

IDEA...whose time has come!

WRENCH is a software product that was conceived in the early 90's and developed by a team of young technocrats associated with the leading global engineering companies, to help them manage their engineering business processes efficiently.

We are growing rapidly and expanding globally. In order to fuel the growth, we are looking for energetic, innovative and ambitious candidates (freshers/experienced) to be a part of our Consulting, Product Development and Business Development team.
